

Where do I find vaccines?

Vaccines may be available at private doctor offices, pharmacies, workplaces, community health clinics, health departments or other community locations, such as schools and religious centers.

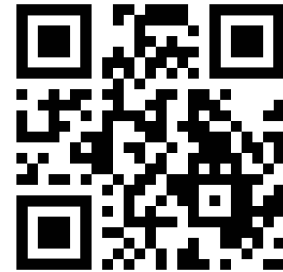

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How do I schedule an appointment and/or confirm vaccine availability at a pharmacy?

A: VaccineFinder.org helps you find pharmacies and their contact information. Since each location handles appointments differently and vaccine availability can vary, you'll need to contact the pharmacy directly to schedule your appointment and confirm they have the vaccine in stock.

Q: How can I check if the pharmacy takes my insurance?

A: Reach out to the pharmacy to confirm they take your insurance. You can also contact your insurance plan, or Medicare or Medicaid, to confirm vaccine coverage. Most vaccinations are covered by health insurance.

Private Insurance

All Health Insurance Marketplace plans and most other private insurance plans must cover certain vaccines without charging a copayment or coinsurance when provided by an in-network provider. This is true even for patients who have not met a yearly deductible. Doses, recommended ages, and recommended populations for vaccinations vary.

Medicare

Medicare Part B plan will pay for the following: COVID-19 vaccines, Hepatitis B vaccines for people at increased risk of hepatitis, influenza (flu) vaccines; pneumococcal vaccines, and vaccines directly related to the treatment of an injury or direct exposure to a disease or condition, such as rabies and tetanus.

Medicaid

Beginning October 1, 2023 most adults with coverage from Medicaid and CHIP will be guaranteed coverage of all vaccines recommended by the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practice at no cost to them.

Military

If you serve in the military or are a military dependent, you are eligible for TRICARE. Under TRICARE, vaccines are covered according to the CDC recommended schedule.
